Personal Preparedness

It’s not a matter of “if disaster will strike, but when.” Disasters can strike at any time, anywhere and without warning. Therefore it is important that you have a plan and are prepared. If you know what to do when disaster strikes, you can be more in control of the situation and more able to react calmly. If you are an emergency responder or someone needed to assist during a disaster, being prepared beforehand will give you the peace of mind that your family is ok.

Steps You Can Take To Be Prepared

☐ Talk to your family about disasters.
☐ Review what you would do for different types of situations.
☐ Develop a Family Communications Plan.
☐ It may be easier to make a long-distance phone call than to call across town, so an out-of-town contact may be in a better position to communicate among separated family members.
☐ Be sure every member of your family knows the phone number and has coins or a prepaid phone card to call the emergency contact.

☐ You may have trouble getting through, or the telephone system may be down altogether, but be patient.
☐ Plan places where your family will meet, both within and outside of your immediate neighborhood.
☐ If you have a car, keep a half tank of gas in it at all times in case you need to evacuate.
☐ Become familiar with alternate routes and other means of transportation out of your area.
☐ If you do not have a car, plan how you will leave if you have to.

☐ Review your Disaster Supply Kit and replace water and food every six months.
☐ Get a NOAA Weather Radio.
☐ Check the batteries in your smoke alarm twice a year.
☐ Review your insurance policies to ensure you have adequate coverage.
☐ Train each family member how and when to turn off the utilities-electricity, water and gas.
☐ Practice fire and tornado drills.
☐ Learn how to “Shelter-in-Place.”
☐ Learn how to care for your pets during a disaster. Many shelters will not take pets.
