City of Racine Parks & Park Amenities

DEFINITIONS

Neighborhood Park: smaller park, usually with playground equipment, designed to serve the surrounding neighborhood.

Community Park: park that are larger than neighborhood parks, designed to serve several neighborhoods, and the general public. Usually include playground equipment, sport infrastructure, and shelters.

Passive Park: park that is principally designed for use in an unstructured or informal way; typically less developed than an active park, but may contain features such as walking tracks, gardens, seating, picnic areas, etc. They do not usually contain sport infrastructure or encourage strenuous physically activity, although they may contain playground equipment.

Mini Park: (also known as pocket park parkette, or vesty park) small park that is accessible by the general public, created on a small or irregular piece of land, and are too small for recreational activities. They usually contain a bench or other structure to relax, and playground equipment.

Environmental Corridors: natural landscape are natural landscape that connect and protect other elements in nature. They are complex ecosystems that provide buffers between nature and the human communities surrounding them, and corridors for wildlife and natural resources to thrive. Much like a hallway may connect a kitchen to the bedrooms within a home, environmental corridors allow a structured movement within nature. We are fortunate to have environmental corridors in many of our parks.

Environmental corridors are primarily the same, except in size.

Primary environmental corridors: at least 400 acres in area, at least two miles in length, and at least 200 feet in width.

Secondary environmental corridors: least 100 acres in area and at least one mile in length.

Isolated natural resource areas: at least five acres in area and at least 200 feet in width.
